Lookout Hill Report on Hospital Spending

What on earth is going on in hospital board rooms? Do they really feel comfortable with the way their nonprofit hospital is spending its resources? While hospitals have complained about being pressured to purchase safe equipment for lifting and moving patients, or to increase front line care staffing, many have no trouble spending hundreds of thousands, and sometimes millions of dollars for executive staff. And advertising. And lobbying. A comprehensive study by Lookout Hill Public Policy Associates, issued by the Communications Workers of America, District 1,

Time for oversight of dangerous chemicals

The government is failing at protecting the public from dangerous chemicals. Congress tried to regulate the various questionable substances that manufacturers and industry use to produce the products Americans buy. But the 1976 Toxic Substances...
